

Features provided by DBMS

- Logical and physical independence
- Declarative query language and query optimization
- Data integrity and security control
- Transaction support: ACID properties
- Concurrency control of multiuser access
- Logging
- Recovery of database from failure
- Ease of application development
- ...